1. Draft calls began in September 1951 for part of the class of 1931 in Hungary. This is considered surprising because the call-ups usually are issued in October; there is no known explanation for the change in date.
2. The Orszagos Orszaszloalj (state guard battalion), which is directly under the Ministry of Defense, has had frequent alerts and restrictions to garrison, sometimes for periods as long as two weeks. On the other hand, no restrictions or alerts have been reported from the artillery depot on Timot utca, Budapest.
3. [] no increase in the number of Soviet troops in Budapest up to 7 September.
